THERE WERE FEW ANCIENTS
AMONG THE "ANCIENT ROMANS"

THE AVERAGE ANCIENT ROMAN LIVED TO BE 22

The American born in 1961 can look forward to a life span of nearly 70 years. Since 1900 alone, average life expectancy has climbed an incredible 20 years. Medical progress is the great achiever of these revolutionary gains. New research and new knowledge today promise even further advances.

Nevertheless, neglecting to see a physician in time to benefit fully from modern medical science is cheating many not only of average years, but of extra years. Clearly, the great step toward better health and longer life is simple: regular medical check-ups.

Local Steelworker Officials Pleased With Agreement

Quad-City Steelworkers Union officials are pleased with the agreement reached Thursday at Pittsburgh and said they will arrange meetings with local steel plant officials after conferring with local delegates to the Pittsburgh meeting.

Lloyd McElreath, subdistrict director for the Steelworkers, said details of the agreement were brought to the office by two local members of the wage policy committee.

They were Clyde Boyd, who is Third Ward alderman and president of Local 67, and Archie White, president of Local 1063.

The agreement between the union and the nation's major steel plant officials was negotiated on a local level with Granite City Steel Co. and Laclede Steel Co. The contracts for General Steel Industries and American Steel Foundries do not expire until a later date.

Pattern Generally Followed

The "big steel" pattern generally is followed on a local level, and the agreement reached at Pittsburgh last week covers 21 months. It was preceded by 5 1/2 months of informal talks. The cost is estimated at 15 cents an hour.

The new agreement is to run until May 1, 1965. It provides lengthening hospitalization payments to a full year from the present 120 days and added vacation benefits with 50% of basic steelworkers in each company having the longest service to be entitled to a 13-week vacation once every five years.

The Steelworkers Union represents about 3500 workers at Granite City Steel Co. and about 1500 at the Madison Laclede Steel Co. plant.

Highlights Of Special
scope of the project. The council agreed to hear the full report.
Davis said he should have been added to call the special meeting. "We didn't know you were in town," Moerlein remarked. The mayor said he got back from Honolulu on Wednesday. Davis said he would oppose financing with revenue bonds. "Industry won't be paying its full share," he said. Moerlein said the matter of financing could be revised to best fit the city's needs.
Davis-Moerlein Argument
When Davis recognized a deferred motion, Moerlein, a former mayor, argued that he was familiar with proceedings and that a motion to defer the committee's recommendation was not in order.
Davis replied he was following the attorney's advice. "Don't you think you're the mayor, I'm in the chair, and I'm presiding. With no vote on the recommendation having yet been taken, I'm calling for adjournment. There was no motion to adjourn." "I think you're out of order, mayor," Rutledge called out.
Davis replied for order.
Moerlein, appealed to the council to stay and take action. He stressed the June 24 (today) deadline given by the Sanitary Water Board office. Johnson pointed out the city was liable for a $200-a-day penalty for polluting the Mississippi River.
Norn remarked the committee was not in order.

Treatment Plant
eliminate industrial cooling water and a portion of storm water from flowing to the treatment plant.
The committee, which gave tentative estimates of $4,000,000 for the project, stressed the interceptors would not only reduce the size and cost of the treatment plant but also would provide for sanitary sewer lines to North Granite and two areas of West Granite where presently there are no sewers and the residents have septic tanks. The areas are along Nevada avenue and the western ends of Cayuga and Denver streets.
Mayor Davis at the outset of the meeting expressed displeasure with the committee for not asking him to call the special session and then said would not go along with the proposal to finance a portion of the program with revenue bonds, should there be such a request.
The mayor said he would make certain there would be ample time for Granite Citizens to file petitions demanding such an election. He was told the SWB could order the treatment plant to be built without referendum.
The committee's proposal stressed interceptors not only would reduce the size and cost of the treatment plant, but also would provide the city with a means in the future to remove storm water from the present combination sewer system.
McGee offered another suggestion for an interceptor along Nankook road and East 23rd street to divert all sanitary sewage from the Nankook area away from the combination sewers in the older sections of the city.
As arguing continued, it became evident the resolutions could not get the 11 votes needed for final approval. Fourteen were present. Absent were Mayor Skubish, who was working, and Clyde Boyd, who was out-of-town for St. Louis contract negotiations.
Voting for the engineering resolutions were Pavey, Rutledge, Whitmer, Mrs. Betine, Johnson, Dallas, McGee, Moerlein, Sternberg and Thompson. Against it were Norn, Basarich, Bartosiek and Bergfield. In the vote on the fiscal agent, the objectors were Norn, Basarich and Bartosiek.
Moerlein stressed that the local engineering firm, which had been paid $101,400 to plan the citizens committee drainage and pollution program, was most familiar with the city's problems of the six engineering firms interviewed. "They also agreed to do the job for the minimum engineering fees as recommended by the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers with no added charges for additional preliminary studies. The recommendation was for the council to extend the engineering contract dated April 7, 1960. The fiscal agent fees set forth were four-tenths of one per cent for general obligation bonds and five-tenths for revenue bonds."

How To "Sell" Your Family On Saving

By JOHN POLSON
Asst. Vice-President, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank

Having trouble getting your family to take the budget seriously? Maybe you're like the fellow I know who got tired of being considered the family grouch when it came to the budget. Let's call him Jackson. Facing the fact that he was the only one worrying about saving in his household, he decided he'd get more cooperation from his family if he could "sell" them on the idea.

The only thing they had ever really helped him save for was last year's trip to Florida. So Jackson figured out the best way to sell them was to show them that the budget was all about — saving for something they all wanted.

He changed the name on the recreation budget to "trip to Florida." "How?" they asked.

"I'll show you," he said. He changed the name to "Florida." His wife right away began to increase that department.

Then Jackson went over each budget heading and changed the name. "Education" he renamed "The Illinois University Fund." He asked his son and daughter if they thought the family was putting away too much of its income for this.

"Maybe you feel it straps us too much," he said.

"Heck no," they chorused. In no time, Jackson was half-way to home base with his sell on saving. The kids even signed down their "gimme" routine and started earning extra money for their own wants.

NOTE: For financial assistance or banking services, you are cordially invited to consult Mr. Polson or any of the other officers at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, 1909 Edison Avenue.

Hours: 9:00 to 1:00—Monday thru Thursday
Friday 9:00 to 1:00 and 4:00 to 7:00
Telephone — Triangle 6-1212

The new headings on the family savings budget were less business-like, but more effective. Putting family money aside for an extra small car was an exciting proposition to the teen-agers; but squirreling away money for "transportation" was strictly from Nothingville.

There were some items the kids wanted to insert in the new budget that were narrowly personal. For example, Jackson Jr. thought the whole family ought to save up for a "choptop," stick drive, four-barreled '36 Merc. But Jackson Sr. said, "That's an individual saving project. No dipping into the family till for that."

Jackson was doing well, but still, the most important savings projects just plain aren't interesting, like the general savings account, life insurance fund, and so forth. At first Jackson couldn't see how to sell them on such far-off projects. Then he came up with a system of near rewards.

He put all these far-off projects on graphs which showed monthly progress on each long-range saving plan. Then when certain pathway goals were reached, small rewards came due. Jackson Jr. was financed to the state stock car meet. His sister got an overnight bag. The sister got an overnight bag. The sister got an overnight bag.

THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1938

The campaign for $500 for St. Elizabeth hospital got off to an enthusiastic, hopeful start Tuesday evening with a dinner served to the campaign workers. The number of workers who came to proclaim their readiness to participate was nearly 300. The food served was a good advertisement for the hospital, being tasty and appealing and served in liberal portions. Roy Massey, the general chairman, presided at the meeting and master-of-ceremonies and called upon Mayor Kirkpatrick first. He claims the hospital has upon the city and citizens as an institution of the number one class.

Approximately 150 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Frohardt attended a program and reception in honor of the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at the Niedringhaus Memorial M. E. Church.

The program was given in the Sunday school room, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

It consisted of "Old Favorites," a piano and violin solo by Rev. and Mrs. Allen Jones of Moundsville, a vocal solo, "Give the Flowers to the Living," by Mrs. Walter Klein; a reading, "Old Friends," by Mrs. William Allen; a reading, "The Threeds Among the Gold," by Mrs. H. F. Butler and Mrs. William Reischer; a violin solo by Miss June Apple; a duet by Rev. and Mrs. Roy Nease; a talk on "Early Remembrance of the Frohardts for many years," by F. K. Kottmeier, a neighbor of the Frohardts for many years; and a piano solo by Sara Jane, the Frohardt's granddaughter.

Arrangements have been completed by Eta chapter of Phi Tau Omega society for the annual national convention, which will be held Saturday and Sunday at Hotel Jefferson, St. Louis. This year's convention is under the auspices of the Granite City chapter.

Mrs. Thelma Marks, national organizer, and Miss Helen Gerstner, chapter officer, presided over the local chapter. Delegates from Granite City are Misses Veloris Bar, Helen Brink and Kathryn Weidner.

E. F. Campbell, publisher of the Granite City Press-Record, is to be one of the speakers at the Illinois Democratic Educational Association meeting which will be held June 25-26 at Springfield.

Paul Roseman of Granite City received the appointment of Deputy Supervisor of Human Resources at the Southern Illinois White Shrine convention held Monday in Decatur. Shrine members from Illinois, Indiana and Missouri attended.

WHY NO CITY JOBS FOR EX-SERVATION WORKERS?

To the Editor:

We are seeing new faces on our city department. This looks good, and we probably need them.

Questions are being asked as to why our ex-servation workers are not put on these jobs. Is it the city's fault or the fault of union leaders?

I believe our ex-servation workers should fill the jobs. They are qualified and familiar with our city and needs. And, they held city jobs.

I know the only way to talk to them is to tell them they want and need the jobs just as much as we do. There is a specific reason these jobs could be due to politics?

These men did not back certain men, but this should not have a bearing on it. A lot of us are good losers and will try our best to help them.

What is the answer? I would like to know, and so would others.

We know some of our elected officials this time are thinking of the taxpayers who signed up when Mr. Warfield, our street superintendent, put his men on our latest street break. This proved a very good chance these jobs if only given a chance—and at a lower cost to the taxpayers.

ALDERMAN EXPLAINS VIEWS ON CONVENTIONS

To the Editor:

In the Forum of the June 17 and again June 20 issue of your paper, I was criticized by some individuals who signed their names "Glenview Resident" and "Council Observer."

These people who criticized me did not have the intestinal fortitude to sign their own names. Evidently, in plain language, they lack guts.

If the individuals will contact me, I will, at their convenience, gladly go to their homes and explain to them personally the statements I made.

Now, for an explanation to the

A party for her pinocchio club, the Joyce Circle, was given on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Anderson of Iowa street.

Among the members to receive prizes were Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. George Mueller, Mrs. John Miesheimer and Mrs. Ray Voss.

Mrs. Robert Wilson, 2614 Benton street, gave a delightful party for her bridge club Wednesday evening and included two guests, Mrs. Harry Lindhorst of Chicago and Mrs. Harold Had.

The score favors were won by Mrs. Frank Koetter and Mrs. Francis Abraham.

Miss Deloris Layman was hostess to the Young Women's auxiliary of the Baptist church at her home Monday evening.

Girls present were Miss Leola Allen, Miss Trille Sigman, Miss Louise Hobbs, Miss Geraldine Macdon, Miss Ruby Haynes, Miss Dyer, Miss Lela Lockley, Miss Lela Signa and Miss Lauretta Hollenbeck.

State Highway Patrolman Charles Bernier of Granite City was given a rating as an excellent marksman at a meet held in Collinsville.

Rev. John S. Brockmeier of Springfield, who once edited and published a weekly newspaper in Venice, was the guest speaker yesterday at the weekly noon luncheon of the Madison lodge.

Rev. Brockmeier spoke at length on the danger to Americanism if we get a foothold in the United States.

Mrs. T. K. Ogilvie of Madison was hostess to the Gabbey Pinocchio club Wednesday.

The guests assembled for a potluck luncheon at noon and spent the afternoon at Mrs. Terrell's home.

Mrs. M. C. Gibson, a guest of the party, was the hostess.

Debate On Proposed Amendments Will Prove Helpful To Public

The Madison County Bar Association is performing a public service in sponsoring Wednesday evening what has been described as the first major national debate on three constitutional amendments proposed last December by the Assembly of the State of Illinois.

All have made some headway and more than half the states, including Illinois, have given at least partial approval to one or more of the proposals. But each amendment has serious weaknesses and there is doubt that any will receive full endorsement of 34 states. If this should happen, Congress might be placed in the position of calling a national constitutional convention and scheduling the amendment for submission to state legislative ratification.

Regardless of their merits, the revisions that are proposed would bring about such sweeping changes that they should be fully understood by citizens.

The two which have been faring best would nullify the March 1962 court ruling giving federal courts jurisdiction over state legislative reapportionment and would give two-thirds of the state's members without waiting for Congressional action.

Three-fourths would still have to ratify. Little has been heard of the third amendment, which would give the U. S. supreme court chief justices, posed of the 50 state supreme court chief justices, under the plan could overrule the U. S. supreme court on matters involving the state-federal relationship.

The debate this week should aid in clarifying for each citizen what is involved and how it could affect him.

Experienced University, Port Appointees Retained

Reappointments announced by Gov. Kerner last week enable Southern Illinois University and the Tri-City Regional Port District to continue to benefit from the services of able board members.

Harold R. Fischer, a university trustee nine years, is assured of at least six more years, while two of the original port commissioners, Chairman Carl A. Dandridge and Henry D. Karandjich, have been named to new three-year terms.

With the new university campus here in the initial stages of construction, the Port is building its preparation for development of the Port by the Granite City, the experience of such appointees can prove invaluable.

What Was That Number Again?

For those who have trouble remembering their telephone and auto license numbers, much less their social security numbers, plans for postal "zip-codes" come as something less than welcome news.

But in the interest of progress—and faster and more accurate mail service—one will wish to delay the postman in the completion of his appointed rounds by omitting their 62040, 62041, 62042 or 62043 designation in Granite City, 62060 in Madison or 62070 in Venice. If neither 62060 in Madison or 62070 in Venice, if neither zip-code, nor, now, nor select can impede the U. S. mail, why should an individual try?

Actually, a numerical address survey of our times is nothing new. The census taker, the mailman, the credit card, club permit, auto club card and driving license, and we could probably locate a few more with little trouble.

An era of classifying people numerically from the cradle to the grave is not only near—it has arrived. But with the numbers that are assigned to each person, there is some comfort in the varying so greatly, those keeping track of us are probably as confused as we are. We will not feel that "they've got our number" or that "our number is up" until all the figures assigned to us coincide.

Issue Of State, U. S. Authority

Should the federal government have all authority that it does not leave to the states, or should it be only a depository office for the states? This is the extreme basic position in the issue raised by three proposed U. S. constitutional amendments. Originally advanced last winter by the Conference of State Governors, the amendments were recorded a favorable reception in some state legislatures.

The Illinois General Assembly during its 1963 session ending this week approved a resolution which would amend the process by which the constitution is amended. It was introduced by Sen.

Everett E. Laughlin (R, Freeport) and received bi-partisan support. The gubernatorial action is not provided for in such resolutions, so there was no possibility of its being enacted.

Reapportionment, Super Court. Only two Illinois senators spoke against the amendments. The amendments were the most palatable of the three proposals. The second most popular was the one to eliminate federal court jurisdiction in state legislative reapportionment.

The least attractive of the three amendments, which would give the federal courts the right to pass on the constitutionality of state laws, was the one which would give the federal courts the right to pass on the constitutionality of state laws.

I was rather proud of the display in my neighborhood but we can do better. If all those who have a flag will display some, it will be a beautiful sight. "Keep 'em flying."

Court Rulings On Religion Proper—Up To This Point

We have no argument with the Supreme Court decision banning Bible reading and prayer recitation in public schools, because Bibles and prayers vary among religions. One set of beliefs should not be forced upon an individual who holds a different set of beliefs.

We will part company with the current court trend, however, if it is continued to the extent that it curbs religion entirely in favor of the absence of religion—atheism.

Nearly all people of the world except those under Communism revere God—whether they call Him by that name or another. In our opinion, there is nothing wrong—and something very right about referring to God in public schools or anywhere else, as long as it is not elaborated to the point of advocating one particular form of religion.

A clue to the school's thinking on this point is likely to be given by its decision on the latest challenge to school practices. This is the suit to halt use of the pledge of allegiance and use of the flag on the ground that in recent years it has included the phrase "under God."

With modern rush and bustle, a vacation is getting to be a misnomer.

School Treasurer Job Can Be Performed Properly With A Saving To Taxpayers

Food for thought is provided for other school boards by the Granite City board's decision to name its school treasurer from among its own ranks for a second successive year.

As pointed out by Treasurer Worthen, the action is a saving to the board a direct vote in establishing the new system and also enabled it to determine the scope of the responsibilities and duties. It was a logical experiment in saving because joint board member-treasurers cannot be paid.

Now that the requirements are known to be not burdensome, a precedent has been established which should be limited to Worthen, even though his knowledge of accounting undoubtedly functions help. With the fiscal program functioning smoothly and the bulk of the work carried out by school district business staff, most board members would be qualified to serve adequately in the office.

Another dividend of the course being followed is that a political football has been avoided. This is in line with the wishes of most parents that the schools give top priority to what is best for the students, rather than to political considerations.

The point is worthy of being noted by the Madison and Venice school districts, each of which is spending $100 a month for a treasurer service. Terms of non-paid treasurers run for two years. Terms of non-paid treasurers run for two years. Terms of non-paid treasurers run for two years.

Farical Abuse Of City Council Procedural Rules

Tradition notwithstanding, the farical handling of presiding duties last week makes one wonder whether the custom of naming the oldest alderman acting mayor is in the public interest. As was brought out by the council members, all council members are equally eligible under the law.

Even though chosen by his fellow ward representatives, Alderman Norwood made no time in showing that he would attempt to use arbitrary rulings to dictate council procedure, even refusing to put unwanted motions to a vote while prodding aldermen to submit motions and seconds which he desired.

This is not the first time that procedural rules have been abused on the Granite City council floor. It is high time that the people be put to a stop, but it is high time that the people be put to a stop, but it is high time that the people be put to a stop.

Unincorporated Area Crimes Being Solved

It was a routine news article in some ways, and yet significant. An investigation of a tavern burglary and the arrest of two men and the recovery of most of the stolen articles.

What was different in this case was the establishment was located in the unincorporated area and that the case was handled by the sheriff's office. Until the formation of an investigative staff within the office last winter, it was a rarity for such crimes in the county area to be solved.

It is good to belong to a minority—the political parties pay so much attention to them.

THE PASTOR SPEAKS

REV. ALFRED BULL
Hope Lutheran Church

Statistics show that better than 90% of the citizens of America confess a faith in God. Yet, someone has said that a host who has discarded the Bible, thrown the Bible overboard, broken the bars, destroyed his compass and has no idea where he is going, but he continues to invite people to join him in the boat.

Man needs both direction and the power to follow the right course in life and know the goal he is going to. There must be a personal relationship with God.

Because we are human, we must look upon God as an abomination who is so far away in the heavens, so high, so unapproachable that He is nothing to us.

The other extreme is that we look upon God as a human, so much like us, that He becomes nothing to us.

SIDELIGHTS from SPRINGFIELD

By Sen. PAUL SIMON

UNFINISHED BUSINESS—REVENUE, COURT REFORM. With only a short time to go before this legislative session closes, it appears that two big items untouched and unfinished which remain unaccomplished are:

1. Substantial improvement in our revenue structure. Proper steps forward to accomplish this goal.

When the people of the state voted in 1962, they did it with the belief that they were making some substantial progress in taking our courts out of politics.

Appointments by judges. While much has been done, one great political problem is that we continue to be ruled by our judges.

In my opinion this violates the spirit of the judicial amendment voted by the people—and it certainly violates good sense. The independence of the judiciary is the cornerstone of our government.

Politics In Worst Sense. A judge should be as his duties. The finding of innocence or guilt, not the responsibilities of administering justice.

These appointments will also mean that the long arm of politics—its worst sense—will unquestionably enter into our court appointments.

Our aim should be to keep our courts out of politics, not in politics. One of the reasons that our courts are not highly respected is that they have made just the mistakes that this session of the legislature has made.

Field of revenue reform. Most of the evils that exist today in an unfair distribution of the tax load in our state will remain.

We talked much about revenue reform, but did little. It will take another session—and more public interest—to accomplish any substantial in the field of revenue reform.

Public Interest Needed. Since this is the last session of this legislative session, perhaps this is a good point to state that we have made just the mistakes that this session of the legislature has made.

Those of you who have read this column during the session, my thanks; to those of you who have written letters and urged me to continue to do what state government must do, even greater thanks.

I have also to thank my wife, who has typed these columns each week, stuffed them in envelopes and mailed them to the 300 newspapers in the state.

I must give credit also to the printer of this newspaper who—whether he agreed with me or not—tried to stimulate your interest in state government by running this column.

I hope you do not lose that interest.
